You know where the real monopoly resides? At the American Bar Association, with its legions of parasitic, bloodsucking lawyers ensuring that the taxpayer-funded legal system is responsive to their self-centered whims. Why don't you Dept. of Justice people go after monopolists like that piece of trash David Boie (or whatever his name is - i.e. the shithead who did Al Gore's dirty work in Florida, and who a dim bulb in the DOJ decided would be the perfect lead counsel to unfairly slander and malign Microsoft while being paid with my tax dollars). The courts have been subverted so that the Spences, Baileys, Cochrans etc. etc. can plunder filthy lucre from people who actually work for an honest living.

But all the lawyers in the Justice Dept. are blinded by their allegiance to the American Bar Association (monkey see - monkey do) and walk in lockstep to its every whim. The ABA - now that's a monopoly that is screwing over the American public and someone ought to do something about.

Did you know that the post office stopped issuing stamps with lawyers on them? No one could figure out which side they should spit on.

Sincerely yours, someone who is disgusted with the DOJ's meddling in the internal affairs of that American success story known as Microsoft,
